"and now it cannot restore peace."
"To this dismal record," Nixon said in a statement in Saginaw, Mich., "my opponent brings the fastest, loosest tongue in the nation and the fastest switch of position ever seen in American politics."
"Mr. Humphrey has shown a constitutional inability," Nixon said, to treat the Vietnam war and the Paris negotiations discreetly or, for that matter, understandably, ever since this campaign began."
Humphrey has won a strong show of unity in Texas and now faces California where a sizeable number of Democrats were won to Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's peace stand and are reported withholding support for Humphrey at the moment.
Texas Gov. John Connally and his longtime political adversary, Sen. Ralph Yarborough, stood side by side with Humphrey at stops in Texas, political differences seemingly put aside.

"We have never in 24 years had as united a party in Texas as we have now," Yarborough said in Fort Worth.
Wallace reacted good naturedly to heckling in Oshkosh, Wis., Tuesday, even when he was struck on the shoulder by an apple core.
"That's all right, it'll wash off," he said. "That's just a bunch of anarchists."
In Racine, Wis., the candidate's car was surrounded by shouting, howling students who managed to push it into another car ahead.
Wallace said both Nixon and Humphrey called student protest demonstrations a great movement when they started several years ago.
Now, he said, it has reached the point where leaders of the major parties "ignore the average citizen and pay no attention to his viewpoint while he works

B. L. Robinson, Employment Manager of Day and Zimmerman, Texarkana, addressed a special assembly program at Red River Vocational Technical School Monday, October 21. Mr. Robinson pointed out to the students some of the attributes industry seeks in employees, and impressed upon them the importance of forming good work habits while attending school.

Car Hits Truck, Woman Killed

TRUMANN, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Aurelia Sue Tipton, 24, of Trumann was killed Tuesday when her car struck the rear of a stalled truck on Arkansas 69 about a mile north of here.
Elizabeth Ann Phillips, 23, of Trumann, a passenger in the Tipton car, was hospitalized at Memphis in critical condition.
Police said the truck was not occupied.

Debate Off in Race for Congress

OSCEOLA, Ark. (AP) — The proposed debate between the Republican and Democratic candidates for Congress in the 1st District apparently is off, according to an aide to Republican Guy Newcomb.

The aide, George Bartsch, said he and representatives of Democrat Bill Alexander failed to reach agreement on a format for the debate, and blamed the debate's failure on the Democrats.

He said Alexander's representatives "reverted to original demands" presented in a previous meeting and said "this was their final position and that as far as they were concerned the question of further negotiations was closed."

"I can only conclude that Mr. Alexander is unwilling to face Guy Newcomb in a man-to-man confrontation on television," Bartsch said.

Thinks U.S. Facing a Welfare Crisis

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., said Tuesday that this country faced a "welfare crisis" for which Congress had not found the answers.

Pryor, speaking at the annual meeting of the Arkansas Association of Public Welfare Workers, said welfare rolls were "growing alarmingly, both nationally and here in Arkansas, particularly in the category of Aid to Families with Dependent Children."

"We must try to promote greater family stability," Pryor said. "At the very heart of the public welfare problem, as we all know, is the broken family."

"In the AFDC program, it is the category of father absent from home which has grown so rapidly and so alarmingly," he said. "Within this category, whether we want to admit it or not, statistics prove that illegitimacy is growing."
Pryor urged efforts to "counter the trend toward broken families," which he said had not been made before in the welfare program.

campaign for the Senate.
Griffin was appointed by Republican Gov. George Romney early in 1966 to fill out the term of Democrat Patrick McNamara, who died.

Griffin, running against former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, mailed out 500,000 copies of a newsletter which quoted Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman as saying:

"... Slip, slide and duck any question of higher consumer prices if you absolutely can. Don't get caught in a debate between housewives and farmers. If you do, and to choose a side, take the farmers' side. It's the right side, and besides, housewives aren't nearly as well organized."

Griffin said the quotation was reprinted several times in the Congressional Record before his newsletter carried it. Therefore it qualified for the free-or-franking—privileges allowed congressmen.

Griffin said this was the answer he gave Postmaster Gen. Lawrence F. O'Brien when questioned about it in 1967.

Bryant Declines to Debate

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Secretary of State Kelly Bryant Tuesday declined to debate his Republican opponent, Lynn Davis.
Bryant told Davis that during his term of office he had maintained an "open-door policy with freedom of information to all" and that he had kept the public informed on every important issue.

Says Phone Record Files Are Missing

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — G.W. "Whitley" Tyler, Republican candidate for state auditor, said Tuesday he was wondering why records listing long distance telephone calls from the state auditor's office weren't in the office files like other departments.

He said calls of other departments are attached to the telephone bills, but said his supporters couldn't find any records for the auditor's office when they checked recently.

Tyler also said that his Democratic opponent, Jimmie "Red" Jones, turned "his back" on an additional $160,000 in annual state revenue by sending his representative to a recent meeting of the state Board of Finance with instructions to vote against any increase in the

Objects to Being Called Disloyal

SEARCY, Ark. (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said Tuesday that he didn't object to persons who disagreed with his judgment, but did to attacks that insinuated he was not a loyal American or loyal Arkansan.

Fulbright made the statement while answering questions at a campaign appearance here.

Dr. James D. Bales, a professor of Christian doctrine at Harding College, asked Fulbright to defend a statement that he said Fulbright had made in a speech. He quoted Fulbright as saying that man was a "precocious ape."

Fulbright said Bales had made a profession of picking one sentence out of long speeches. He said Bales had attacked his judgment frequently and that Bales "has the most in-exhaustible energy in this field that I've ever seen."

Fulbright said that what he had meant was that the United States was the richest country in the world and that as such interest rates charged banks on idle state funds.

"It seems to me that a truly dedicated public official would keep the interest of the people in mind instead of special interest groups," Tyler said.

Hunter Safe But Exhausted

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Pope County Sheriff's Office said Tuesday that a Russellville man who failed to return from a hunting trip in the Ozark National Forest Monday has been found.

Officers said J.H. Taylore, 79, who became lost on the hunting trip, was found about 4 1/2 miles from where he left his wife in their car to go hunting in northern Pope County.

It had a temptation to play God. "I think there's a little bit of this in Vietnam," Fulbright said. "... We're not God. We should be reasonable humble and magnanimous."

Brig. Gen. William P. Campbell, vice president of the National Education Program, asked Fulbright why the United States was participating in United Nations sanctions against Rhodesia and South Africa when there were no sanctions against Russia.

Fulbright said that the economic restrictions against the two were somewhat similar to United States restrictions on trade of nonstrategic goods with Russia. He said he thought that one reason for the sanctions against Rhodesia and South Africa was the serious domestic racial problem in this country.

Fulbright also repeated his remarks about the Vietnam war.

Endorsement Doesn't Bother Crank

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Marion H. Crank, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, said Tuesday he was looking forward to election day because he was not discouraged that Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller received the endorsement of the two daily Little Rock newspapers.

"Let's just see what the people of Arkansas really want," Crank told a civic club here. "Let's see if they are expressing what the people of Arkansas feel today."

Crank called Rockefeller a member of the "jet set" with little in common with the people of Arkansas.

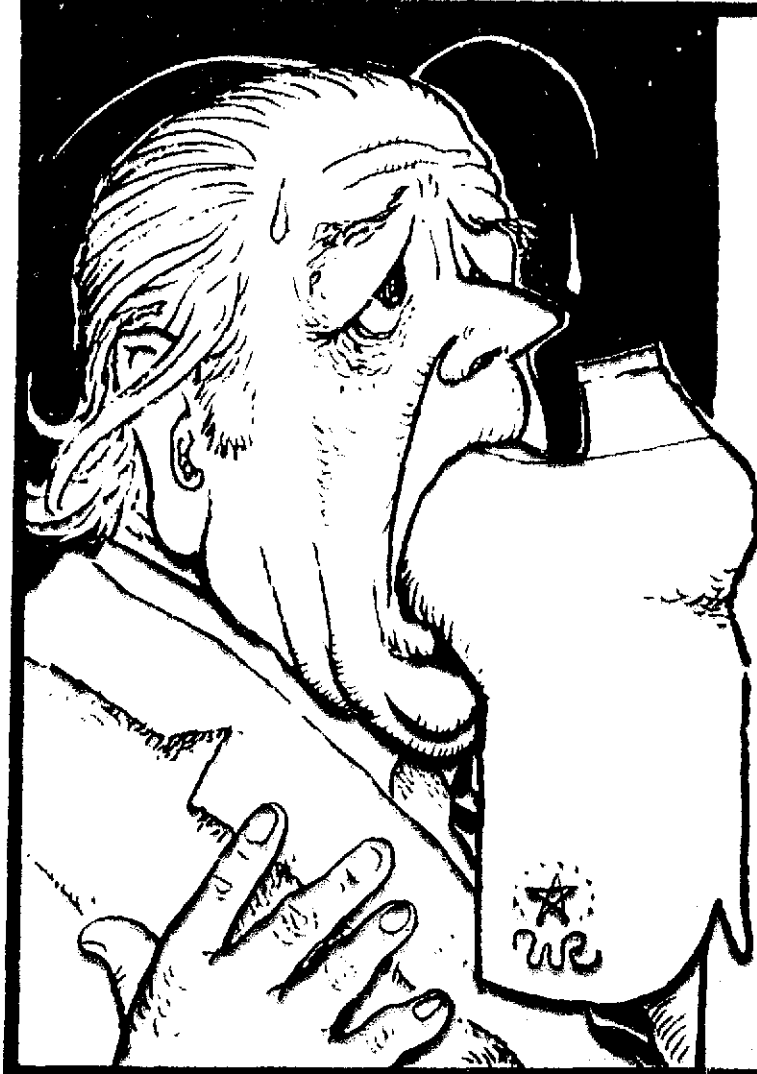

"I'm no glamour boy," Crank said. "Unfortunately, I have to look in the mirror each morning and I know."

He said if elected he could meet the "special and particular" needs of Little Rock and Central Arkansas better than Rockefeller has done.

Cardinal in Defense of Jackie

BOSTON (AP) — Richard Cardinal Cushing says the idea that Jacqueline Kennedy communicated herself from the Roman Catholic Church by her marriage to Aristotle Onassis is "a lot of nonsense."

In a talk Tuesday to members of the Caritas Guild, men in the licensed beverage industry, the Catholic archbishop of Boston said repeatedly that Caritas stands for charity—and that, he said, is what is needed.

"I turn on the radio and all I hear are people knocking her head off, as it were, criticizing her and so forth, and they are so far from the truth that no one would believe me if I ever got on a radio program and revealed what I know."

"All I know that I am able to tell you is this: Caritas, charity."

"Months ago I knew that Jacqueline Kennedy was going to marry Aristotle Onassis," the cardinal said. "I know what she has been going through for many, many months."

"I have been contacted by many of those who are identified in high places with the administration of the late President Kennedy, and I have been contacted by others intimately related and associated with the Kennedy family to stop all this from taking place, namely that Jack's widow, God rest him, would marry Aristotle Onassis."

"Well, I would have no part." The cardinal, and old friend of the Kennedy family, recalled that the former Mrs. Kennedy visited him secretly a week ago, accompanied only by a Secret Service man, and that they talked about two hours.

"My lips are sealed. I cannot tell anything about the private, very private conversation I had with her. . . . No matter what I said to her she was already committed to this marriage months ago and I knew it."

"The point I want to make is this: Why do people pour letters into me? And today's mail is condemning her, condemning me and condemning the church, and the church has nothing to do with it. I never would condemn anybody."

"And this idea of saying she's excommunicated, she's a public sinner, what a lot of nonsense. Only God knows who is a sinner, who is not."

The cardinal noted that he married the late President and Mrs. Kennedy and baptized their children, "so I have had very close relationships with Jacqueline Kennedy."

"Why can't she marry whom-ever she wants to marry, and why should I be condemned and why should she be condemned?"

Field Trip for Methodist Kindergarten

The children of Methodist Kindergarten have enjoyed several brief field trips in the last few weeks in connection with their study of science.

The first trips were in the nature of orientation walks to help the children become acquainted with the school neighborhood. On succeeding trips they looked for signs of changing season and gathered nature specimens for their science table.

Then, Monday, October 21, to round out a unit of study on pets and their care, the children made a shopping trip down town to purchase gold fish and supplies for the school aquarium.

Bill Fuller and Jerry Dale Calhoun served as traffic policemen, Angie Whitaker and Lynn Duke were cashiers, Teresa Sisson, Julie Duckett, Penny Melver and Christie Johnson were on the purchasing committee. All the children had a voice in selecting the fish and the committee tabulated the votes.

It is believed that Nebuchadnezzar ordered the Hanging Gardens of Babylon built to honor his wife, who missed her mountain home.

National Business Women's Week had its kick-off Monday, October 21 with a breakfast at the Diamond. A football theme was used for the decorations and the program.

The table was adorned with goal posts and football helmets, and a water bucket was produced containing a simulated football. This will be "carried" by different members of the local club during the week of observance.

Southern Belle Is a Magician

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Diana Schultz is 22, pert and pretty, has long blonde hair, large blue eyes, a radiant personality and the honeysuckle sweetness of a Southern Belle. She also is a woman magician.

She doesn't go in for clouds of pink smoke, rabbits pulled out of a top hat, or card tricks. Her specialty is the offbeat.

In one number, set to weird, mood music, she works with a square of blue velvet and a tiny golden ball. The ball, beneath the velvet, begins to rise and float through the air—in rhythm with the music. Then it languidly rolls up one side of the cloth, down the other, lazily balances on an edge, leaps beneath the cloth and flutters away on wings of its own.

Slavs Upset the Russian Cage Team

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
MEXICO CITY (AP) — The
showdown for the Olympic basketball title comes Friday,
matching the United States' rag-
tag collection and steady
now—Yugoslavia.

Giant-killer Yugoslavia edged out mighty Russia 63-62, and the U.S. team, by-passed by most of her best collegians and almost dumped by Little Puerto Rico,
easily turned back a strong Brazilian team 75-63 in the semifinals Tuesday night.

The Russia-Yugoslavia game
was packed with drama, the U.S. swimmers scored another 1-2-3 sweep and a hint of commercialism crept into these 19th Games—but the day belonged to host Mexico and a skinny 17-
year-old whose nickname translates "Lukewarm."

His real name is Felipe Munoz and his highly partisan countrymen figuratively raised
the roof on the Olympic pool
when he edged Russian world record holder Vladimir Kosin-
sky and won the men's 200-meter
breaststroke in 2:28.7.

The Russian was second, a half-meter back and 16-year-old Brian Job, Cortland, Ohio, third.
It was Mexico's first gold medal of the Games and only
the third in history for the country. The crowd went mad, shouting and screaming, strangers hugging one another and even the judges applauding.

Munoz caught the Russian at about 175 meters, then surged past him in the last 10 meters.
Asked how he felt, he said: "I didn't realize it until I touched the end of the pool. Then my first impression was to jump up and down like everybody else
was doing. I didn't believe it."

And about that nickname, El Tibio?
"My father comes from Agua Calientes in northern Mexico, which means hot water," he explained. "My mother
comes from a small village called Rio Frio, which means cold river. So when I was small people compromised and called me El Tibio."

Then he broke down and
cried.
The Russians, silver medal
winners in the last four Olympics, didn't cry—at least publicly, after their basketball loss to Yugoslavia, but Russian Coach
Czerw Gornelsky, who had said
he would hold a press conference, failed to turn up for the interview.

It was a wild, lead changing affair, with Yugoslavia going in front to stay when Petar Skansi,
the game's high scorer with 15
points, dropped in a field goal
with 1:15 to go, for a 61-59 lead.
Vladimir Kvetkovio had two free throws to make it 63-60 before Sergei Belove, Russia's high scorer with 14, hit on the last second of play.

The United States, which beat Yugoslavia 73-58 in an earlier tournament game, handled Brazil with ease and is heavily favored to bring home another gold.

The Americans have not lost a game since the sport was introduced into the Olympics in 1932.
They have won 74 in a row.

The Americans, playing without the services of such college
standouts as Lew Alcindor, Elvin Hayes and Don May, followed Jo Jo White's lead to a 42-26 halftime edge and coasted
in from there. The Americans

forced nine turnovers in the first half in one of their sharpest showings.

Ba called off the dogs in the second half. While, playing only six minutes after intermission,
led the American attack with 16 points. Bill Hosket of Ohio State and Spencer Haywood of Detroit
each had 12.

"I don't believe there will be any problem getting the boys up
when they are playing for the gold medal," Ba said.

The U.S. swimmers, though dominating the games, won only one of three gold medals Tuesday—Donna DeVerona, Golden Girl of the 1964 Games, had an explanation for that—and received two other jolts.

First, Cattle Ball, a 17-year-old from Jacksonville, Fla., who holds the world records in the 100 and 200 meter breaststroke,
withdrew from the 200 heats,
suffering from influenza, and went home. Her training had been hampered by an attack of mononucleosis earlier in the year.

And second, Lesley Bush, Indiana U. coed, the defending champion in women's platform
diving, flubbed her first dive
and failed to qualify for Thursday's finals.

Czech Milena Duckova leads
after four dives with 55.25
points, followed by Russian Nadezhda Lovanov, 55.24, and Ann Peterson, Bellevue, Wash.,
54.06. Barbara Talmage, Walnut
Creek, Calif., is sixth at 49.70.

Debbie Meyer, Sacramento,
Calif., who already had one gold medal, led the American sweep
of the women's 200-meter freestyle in 2:10.5, followed by Jane Barkman, Wayne, Pa., 2:11, and Jan Henne, Oakland, Calif.,
2:11.2. It was the fifth American sweep in swimming.

But Roland Mattes, East German world record holder in the men's 100-meter backstroke,
won his specialty, giving the United States only one gold for the day. He was timed in 58.7, easily winning over Charles Hickcox, Phoenix, Ariz., second,
and Ronald Mills, Fort Worth,
Tex., third.

Miss DeVerona had an explanation:
"I don't know how long it will take, but other countries are adopting our methods, copying
our programs and dipping into the minds of our best coaches,"
she said. "They are not stealing
our secrets—we are giving them away."

The United States, though winning only six medals, still maintained a big lead over giant Russia. The United States
now has a total of 72 medals, 29
gold, and Russia has 42, including 14 gold.

The Russians got their only
gold of the day from Evgeny Petrov in skeet shooting. He won in a shoot-off with Romano
Garagani of Italy and Konrad
Wirthner of West Germany.

All had 198 of 200 at the end of regular competition, but the Russian was 25 of 25 in the shoot-off with Garagani second
and Wirthner third.

Gyozo Kulcsar of Hungary
scored an upset in the day's
only other gold medal event,
beating Russian defending champion Grigory Kriss in the men's individual epee. Gianluigi Sacro of Italy was third.

The United States has eight boxers still in competition—including four in the semi-finals
led by heavyweight George Foreman, Pleasanton, Calif.,
Russia has seven.

A hint of commercialism
crept into the Games when it was learned that the U.S. Olympic Committee was investigating reports that some athletes
had received money from athletic goods manufacturers, in violation of the Olympic code.

Claims Some Olympics Athletes Paid

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The
U.S. Olympic Committee reportedly continued today an investigation of claims that some Olympic athletes were paid for using certain athletic equipment.

There has been no official confirmation of the investigation, but it was learned Tuesday night that the USOC was checking reports of violations of the amateur code.

Athletes and USOC officials
were not talking, but published reports by the Washington Post
said the investigation could produce the scandal that would be the worst to hit a U.S. Olympic team.

It was learned that six American athletes were suspected of accepting cash payments, but two were quickly exonerated. At least two athletes from other countries also were being investigated, it was learned.

No names were disclosed officially. There was speculation that some of the payments totaled several thousand dollars,
but there was no confirmation.
Similar probes were made at the Winter Olympics in Grenoble, France, after skiers at one time were forced to cover the brand names on their skis.

Amateurs are prohibited from accepting pay for using specific brands of equipment, although such payments are common for professional athletes such as golfers.

Dallas Is Leading in Statistics

NEW YORK (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys will take the best offensive record in the National Football League into Monday night's Cotton Bowl date with the Green Bay Packers, who trail the Cowboys in five of six team statistics as well as the won-lost records.

Dallas (6-0), is first in total offense with an average of 365
yards per game, third in rushing attack with 155 yards per game and second in passing with 210 yards.

On defense the Cowboys are second over-all, allowing an average of 243 yards, second in rushing defense with 82 yards and ninth in pass defense, allowing 160 yards per game.

Green Bay (2-3-1) is ahead of the Cowboys in only one department, pass defense, where they rank second with an average yield of 123 yards.

The leaders in the six team categories are Dallas in total offense, Chicago in rushing and Washington in passing. Los Angeles is first in total defense and rushing defense. New Orleans has the best record on pass defense.

Dallas has scored the most points, 213, and allowed the fewest, 64. Los Angeles has protected its passer best, only five smeas for 48 yards, and has dumped the other passer the most, 26 times for 212 yards.

Legendary Name Now Eliminated

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Terry Hanratty has eliminated a legendary name from the Notre Dame record book by throwing a football.

Future Notre Dame teams
still will be exhorted to win one for the Glipper, but Hanratty's
name will occupy the spot
George Glipp once held as the school's all-time total offense
leader.

Hanratty passed for 212 yards
and three touchdowns and ran for 55 more yards in a 58-0 rout
over Illinois Saturday, bringing his career yardage to 4,179.
That erased the mark of 4,110
set by Glipp almost 40 years ago.

For his performance, Hanrat-ty was selected College Back of the Week today by The Associated Press.

Michigan State Coach Duffy
Daugherty, whose Spartans take on Notre Dame Saturday in a nationally televised game, says
there's no doubt Hanratty is the best college quarterback in the country.

In gaining Back of the Week
honors, Hanratty was picked over Purdue halfback Leroy Keyes, who sparked a last quarter two touchdown drive to lead
the Bollermakers 28-27 over Wake Forest; Tennessee defensive back Jim Weatherford, who blocked a last-second field goal
attempt as Tennessee stopped Alabama 10-9 and O. J. Simpson, whose second touchdown
capped Southern Cal's 99-yard
fourth-quarter drive and their 14-7 victory over Washington.

Hope Gets 2nd Chance for Upset

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Have you actually realized
what would have been the turn of the events if the Bobcats had upset Fairview last week? What a turn-around in everybody's thinking, to see an upstart team
such as Hope pull off such a feat.

But the breaks made the difference, and the Cardinals got more of them. Now, almost as a reward for their previous outstanding play, Hope gets another chance to knock off an unbeaten front-runner in the whole state, the Magnolia Panthers.

Just like Fairview, the Panthers have breezed through their seven games with seven easy victories, running up 166 points
while remarkably only allowing seven points to Crossett. Magnolia started rather slowly, un-
derpending Warren's Lumberjacks
13-0, but hit into high gear the next week with a 35-0 trouncing
of Haynesville, La.

After that came the 26-7 roll over Crossett. In the battle of the two contenders in 4-AA East.
Since then it's been 92-0, with four easy wins over Camden (33-0), Smackover (20-0), Arkadelphia (12-0), and Texarkana Washington (27-0) last Thursday.

Quite impressive, you say, and the Panther defense is just that.
The offense has been able to rely on turnovers for good field position toward short scoring drives,
but Magnolia has been good enough to muster sustained drives when needed.

On offense, the Magnolia line
averages to about 180-185 pounds
per man, and the backs come very close to 175. The smaller defensive forward wall pushes 180 but the secondary averages
only 155. This makes Magnolia
a little larger than Fairview, but still below the brawn of Malvern,
whose line is as big as most colleges'.

Coach Ronnie Higgins said he was "proud of the way we played last Friday", and that should go for the whole town. Fairview left town bruised and cut up, but the Bobcats came out in much better shape, both physically and mentally.

That beautiful first half performance could have ground any lesser team into submission, but Fairview had one drive left. To be sure, the Bobcats came very close to their peak last Friday,
but a few breaks could really
make the Magnolia game interesting. Otherwise, Lady Luck
still seems to be punishing Hope since the 4-AA title years of 1963-64.

Senior James Rowe, now recovered from his broken arm,
has been placed at Ronny Brown's defensive end slot, and James is battling Phil Watkins for the starting berth. Brown could see some action, but it would be limited, though he probably will be able to retain his place-kicking duties. Should Ronny not dress out, however, James Rowe
is extremely competent on extra points and even possible field goals.

One Bobcat who has not been recognized much this year is Larry Massanelli, who is quietly filling all expectations of his senior year at quarterback. His play-calling has been great, and he was at his best during the Fairview game. Whether it was completing the crucial fourth-down pass or sneaking for first downs, Larry gained much more confidence from the enthusiastic home fans. With his passing percentage close to 50 percent, Massanelli has also scored three touchdowns this season.

Leading the Bobcats in interceptions is linebacker Larry McWilliams, who has picked off
three passes. He ran one back for a touchdown, and his latest pickoff halted a Fairview drive at the Hope 25-yard line. It was Larry who dived on the crucial Cardinal fumble that was nullified by an offside penalty. The fines make that one close, and it was a turning point in the game, allowing Fairview to drive
on in for their first score.

Tomorrow night marks the end of the home season for the surging Bobkittens, as they seek their third straight win against a tough Magnolia team.

The Panther Cubs rely mainly on the power running of fullback
Steve Kincaid, who ran for 100 yards against Hope last year.
The kickoff for the showdown in Hammons Stadium will be 7:30 p.m., and the local fans
have their last chance to see the Kittens in action at home.

Sauer Passes Alworth in Statistics

NEW YORK (AP) — George
Sauer of the New York Jets, last year's pass receiving champion,
has taken over the American Football League lead in that department from San Diego's Lance Alworth.

Each went into last Sunday's games with 30 receptions for the year. Sauer grabbed seven passes and Alworth four.

While Alworth slipped, teammate John Hadl moved to the top spot in passing, according to league statistics released today.
Hadl has completed 49.4 percent of his passes for a leading 1,389 yards and the most touchdowns in the league, 13.

Hewitt Dixon of Oakland held on to the No. 1 spot in rushing with 522 yards, Robert Holmes
of Kansas City held second with 430.

Jan Stenerud of Kansas City remained the scoring leader,
bringing his total to 74 points, 22
more than runner-up Jim Turner
of New York.

In other departments, Dave Grayson of Oakland is No. 1 in interceptions with five, Jerrell Wilson of Kansas City is first in punting with a 47.2 average, George Atkinson of Oakland leads in punt returns with a 18.1
average and Max Anderson of Buffalo heads the kickoff returners with a 27.8 average.

shorts today to go over plays.
An added advantage to the junior game is that the Hope coaches
will be able to see the formations that Magnolia's seniors will use the next night against the Bobcats, and Thursday night's battle is sure to be a good one.

Selections in College Grid Play

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It's a pretty safe bet that somebody in the Ivy League will find a way to bounce Bernie Zbrzezni before anybody figures out a way to pronounce him.

Zbrzezni, a talented quarterback whose tongue-twisting surname has become the keynote of a Pennsylvania football revival, will be at the trigger Saturday when the unbeaten Quakers take on Princeton.

The guess here is that the tough Tigers will beat Bernie to the draw and snip Penn's victory string at four.

The pickings were on the lean
side last week, this corner compiling a 40-14-3 mark. On the season, the tally is 213-72-11.
With ties counted against us,
that figures to a .720 pace.

This weekend's picks:
Princeton over Penn:
Zbrzezni, who hit on 11 of 15
passes in last week's 34-0 victory over Lehigh, has a sore pitching hand. And the Quakers haven't beaten Princeton in eight years . . . and rarely have come close.

Penn State over Boston College: Beantown won't be the same after State turns tight and Ted Kwalick loose on the Eagles.

Northwestern over Wisconsin:
The Wildcats have been pointing for this one since they first looked at their schedule . . . and found Miami, Southern Cal,
Purdue, Notre Dame and Ohio

Wednesday, October 23, 1968
State ahead of Wisconsin.
Michigan over Minnesota:
After an opening loss to California, the Wolverines have been coming on like the Detroit Tigers.

Mississippi over Houston: The fast-stepping Cougars will discover it's no treat to beat your feet in the Mississippi mud.

West Virginia over Virginia Tech: But the Mountaineers will have to be sky high. The Gobblers are tougher birds than their 2-3 season record shows.

Oklahoma over Colorado:
Both the Sooners' Bob Warmack
and Colorado's Bob Anderson
are dandy quarterbacks . . . but Warmack should get more help
from his mates.

UCLA over Stanford: a slim edge for the home team in this battle of frustrated Pacific 8 contenders.

Top Players of the Week in SWC

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
Associated Press Writer

This week's Associated Press Southwest Conference Back and Linebacker of the Week played despite sickness last Saturday and by the time they finished their performances, the opposition didn't feel too well either.

University of Texas defensive tackle Leo Brooks had the flu and couldn't breathe well at times, but somehow he got around enough to be in on 17 tackles in Texas' 39-29 victory over Arkansas.

Mike Richardson, SMU's ground-gubbling tailback, didn't let an upset stomach keep him from rushing for 152 yards and catching five passes for 47 yards in the Mustangs' 32-24 victory over Rice.

Richardson, the SWC rushing leader, says SMU's reputation of being a passing team gives him a chance to run with the ball.

"They get spread out so much they don't look for me," Richardson said. "We surprised Rice with quick traps and I caught a lot of check passes."

It was a quirk of fate that got Richardson into this ball carrying business in the first place. Richardson said he played defense as a freshman until teammate Jerry Levis, currently the nation's leading pass receiver, got hurt.

"I got my chance to play then," Richardson said. "You know, I kind of like it on offense."

Being a former defensive player, Richardson still enjoys the contact aspect of the game.

"I like to drop a shoulder and punish the lacker because that's what he's trying to do to me," Richardson said. "I like to use the stiff arm. And when I get to the goal area I try to run even harder because I know it's going to be that much tougher."

Although SMU has surprised the experts by rolling up a 4-1 record at season's midpoint, Richardson says there's more to come.

"I think we can get a lot better," he said. "We can improve. I think we can go all the way to the Cotton Bowl."

Other backs receiving votes in the poll included three quarterbacks, A&M's Edd Hargett,

WAR EAGLE FAIR

Editor The Star: A note to thank you for telling your readers about the crafts fair at War Eagle (Oct. 18-20). Without an editor like you we would miss the jewels of life. Eureka Springs is one of them. So is the fair at War Eagle. What a delightful experience these last three days have been!

After 20 years of traveling in and about Arkansas I have only touched the little things. If I had not listened to you I'd never have reached the true wonders of the state.

We went (to War Eagle) using your route both ways, and saw spectacular views. But beautiful as the scenery was, the War Eagle fair still held the most for us. I did not think there was a place left in the world completely devoid of commercialism — what a breath of fresh air!

We spent two whole days enchanted with the ingenuity of others. Some of the art was the finest I've seen anywhere — the people ever so real, kind, and friendly.

Smokescreens, Says Crank of the GOP

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) — Marion H. Crank, the Democratic nominee for governor, said Monday night that Republicans "are using smokescreens to obscure the real issues" of the campaign.

Speaking at a Democratic rally in Paragould Monday night, Crank said the smokescreens included such things as the Arkansas Loan and Thrift case and the fact that his daughter was on the legislative payroll when she was eight years of age.

Crank told a crowd estimated at 500 that hundreds of children throughout Arkansas had been on the legislative payroll as pages.

Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., campaigning for Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said some had branded Fulbright as a liberal and a few as a conservative but "I would brand him a dedicated public servant to every citizen of this state."

Bill Alexander of Osceola, the party's nominee for Congress in the 1st District, said he would "vote for the will of the people" if the presidential race were forced into the U.S. House.

Alexander noted that his opponent, Guy Newcomb of Osceola, had said Alexander would be bound to vote for Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic presidential nominee.

"Any informed person in a congressional race should know that the (state party) pledge doesn't extend to matters which come before the Congress," Alexander said.

Charles Matthews, chairman of the state Democratic party, told the audience that Crank "didn't acquire his much deserved reputation for getting things done by dealing with tainted, ineffectual washouts."

Republicans have charged that Crank is a member of "old guard" politicians.

"These old line shell game politicians couldn't influence the passage or defeat of a bill in the Democratic General Assembly if their lives depended upon it and no one knows that better than Marion Crank," Matthews said.

"The Republicans can point their finger at these characters however much they want, but the fact is that beyond the myth making their influence is minimal and their days are numbered," he said.

Loose Talk Is Laid to Humphrey

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, accusing Hubert H. Humphrey of treating Vietnam with "the fastest, loosest tongue in the nation," said today the Democratic administration "cannot restore peace."

Until now, the Republican presidential candidate had been saying he hoped President Johnson could achieve a Vietnam peace before the Nov. 5 election, and he also had repeatedly said he would use great care in discussing the question lest he interfere with the Paris peace talks.

Ron Ziegler, a Nixon press aide, said in response to an inquiry that the latest statement by the GOP nominee did not reflect any secret information about the current peace search but referred to what had transpired on the public record.

Nixon and all other major presidential candidates have been briefed periodically by Johnson aides on the peace negotiations and, just last week, he talked with the President by telephone about the matter—as did his rivals.

The latest step-up in Nixon's war of words against Humphrey and the Democratic record came in a statement issued as he moved from a 15-hour Ohio train tour Tuesday into a three-day flying visit to Michigan today.

He spent Tuesday night in Toledo, Ohio, where he told an overflow crowd of more than 5,000 at a rally that the Vietnam war "could have been ended before now with a better kind of leadership." He then dropped the subject there.

In the past, Nixon generally has lined up in support of Johnson's Vietnam policy, while often suggesting he could have handled the matter better.

In his Saginaw statement, the GOP candidate said: "The present administration wanted peace. But it couldn't keep it. It has not kept up our military strength. It has not maintained American prestige. And, now it cannot restore peace."

The language, however blunt, was but an opening wedge for what probably is his most barbed assault so far on Humphrey, the Democratic presidential nominee.

The local club was organized in 1924 and now has a membership of 47 business and professional women. HHH Accused by Nixon of Loose Talk

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Richard M. Nixon accused Democratic opponent Hubert H. Humphrey of loose talk and position switching on Vietnam today and said Humphrey as president would create a "great risk of miscalculation on the part of our adversaries."

Humphrey, meanwhile, was being hailed as a political miracle worker for uniting at-odds Texas Democrats behind him. He heads for California late today to try to repeat the feat.

And third party candidate George C. Wallace - hit by an apple core thrown along with eggs and tomatoes Tuesday - said leaders of both major parties have "kowtowed to anarchists" and ignored average citizens.

Nixon said today the present Democratic administration has not been able to keep the peace, has not kept up military strength or American prestige.

State Audubon Society Meets Here Oct. 25

The Arkansas Audubon Society will hold its fall meeting at Hope Friday through Sunday (Oct. 25-27) with headquarters at the Town and Country House Restaurant.

Three bird tours have been arranged for those attending the meeting, including one to famed Grassy Lake, long known among Arkansas bird lovers for its unspoiled scenery and abundant bird life.

Guest speaker at the banquet will be Dr. Douglas James of the biology department at the University of Arkansas, who will talk on the present distribution of birds in the state.

The annual antique show is also being held in Washington this weekend and will probably be one of the musts for many of the Audubon group, according to Sterling Lacy of Magnolia, state Audubon Society president.

H. H. Shugart of El Dorado is vice president of the organization and Mrs. Larry Burns of Jonesboro is secretary. Charles Gardner of Texarkana is currently treasurer of the group and Rollan Brown, assistant professor of biology at Southern State College in Magnolia, is state chairman of education and conservation.

Arrangements for the meeting are being made by the Hempstead Audubon Society of which Harry Shiver of Hope is president, Lacy said.

Says End to War Will Not Silence Protests by Frustrated Youths

WASHINGTON (AP) - Yale University President Kingman Brewster Jr. says strident protests resulting from frustrated young idealism will not be silenced even by an end to the Vietnam war.

Brewster and Tom Hayden, a protest leader in the stormy anti-war street battles during the Democratic National Convention, were lead off witnesses today as the President's commission on violence began hearings on demonstration disorders.

Brewster said violence is rooted in frustration, particularly when the government itself ignores constitutional principles.

Pointing to draft law administration and congressional inaction on draft reform, the Ivy League educator told the panel: "Disrespect for law festers into violence most blatantly when official power itself defies constitutional restraint."

Brewster said the frustration of the young goes deeper than Vietnam. "Even the shock of sudden peace will not bring serenity to a troubled generation," he said.

The educator said students should have a voice in the programs and policies of a university.

Hayden, who has visited North Vietnam and played a role in the release of U.S. prisoners, was a leader in the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam. The group sponsored the convention protests that led to four nights of bloody clashes with Chicago police.

Kiwanis Club Speaker

LARRY PATTERSON

At the regular meeting of the Hope Kiwanis Club Tuesday night, Larry Patterson discussed the constitutional amendments and initiative acts to be voted on at the general election on November 5th, including the proposed act to regulate the dairy industry in Arkansas. Mr. Patterson was introduced by Dean Murphy.

Astronauts, Rested and Fed, Come Ashore to Tell of Journey

By VERN HAUGLAND
Associated Press Writer

ASCOARD USS ESSEX (AP) — The Apollo 7 space trio - cleaned up, rested and well fed - came ashore today to relieve for experts their 11-day, 4 1/2 million-mile journey in space.

The three will fly from the USS Essex to Patrick Air Force Base, Fla., for a long series of debriefings.

From their answers and data gathered by the spacecraft, the space agency hopes to determine whether the next manned space shot can safely take men in a circle around the moon. The decision on whether the Apollo 8 flight will be another earth orbit or circumlunar is expected in November.

For Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Air Force Maj. Donn F. Elise and civilian Walter Cunningham, the next few weeks will be a continuous round of medical examinations, debriefings and reports.

The Apollo 7 crew splashed down at 7:12 a.m. EDT Tuesday at the Atlantic southeast of Bermuda. Officials called the Apollo 7 flight "a perfect mission."

After the three men were brought aboard the Essex, Dr. William Carpenter, the recovery team chief physician, said a medical examination showed all three men "essentially normal - no problems."

Elise had some residual infection, but otherwise there was no evidence of the colds that plagued all three astronauts during the flight and caused so much worry for their re-entry. The men came out of orbit without their helmets to permit them to hold their noses, blow and equalize the atmospheric pressure on their ears.

Like most other spacemen on the 16 previous American flights, the Apollo 7 trio walked stiffly after the long confinement. But Carpenter said he was "very pleased with their total ability."

Elise showed more weariness than the others because he had stood the last night watch and normally would have been preparing for sleep at the time of splashdown at 11 minutes, 57 seconds after 7 a.m.

Visibility was the poorest for any recovery to date. Under normal clear conditions rescue helicopters would easily have spotted the orange and white chutes as they gently lowered the spacecraft into the water 7 1/2 miles from the carrier.

Rep. Pryor to Speak at Demo Rally

Congressman David Pryor of Camden, U. S. Representative from the 4th Arkansas district, will represent Senator J. W. (Bill) Fulbright at the Southwest Arkansas Democratic Rally in Hope on Thursday night, and will speak for the senator.

Senator Fulbright is unable to attend the Hope rally in person due to a previous conflicting speaking engagement. He said today that while he deeply regretted his inability to be here in person, he was delighted that Congressman Pryor was going to represent him.

Arrangements are being completed for the Hope event which will attract most of the Democratic big-wigs of the state to this city. The rally will be held in the Coliseum, and several thousand persons are expected, including the state press and television people.

Senator Says LBJ Paying Him Back

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leader in the Senate fight against President Johnson's Supreme Court nominations says President Johnson has launched a vendetta against him because of his efforts in blocking Abe Fortas' nomination to be chief justice.

"When you stick your neck out and buck the Johnson administration, I guess you have to expect this sort of thing," said Sen. P. Griffin Tuesday.

Griffin commented in a statement released by his office after the Post Office Department accused the Michigan Republican of misusing free mail privileges in his 1966 Senate campaign and said it would seek reimbursement of some $25,000.

Griffin, who was on a mid-western speaking trip, called the postal department's demand "political harassment" motivated by the senator's leadership of the successful fight to block Johnson's nomination of his old friend Fortas.

"I've advised my relatives and my staff to doublecheck their income tax returns and fasten their seatbelts," Griffin said.

Postmaster Gen. Marvin W. Watson said the problem is a matter for Griffin and his conscience. But he added that he had turned it over to the comptroller general for collection.

The issue centers around a newsletter that Griffin sent to constituents during his 1966

Woman in a Coma 4 Years Dies Here

MALVERN, Ark. (AP) — Bertha Mae Matthews, 41, a native of Okolona, died Tuesday night in a Hope hospital where she had lain in a coma since an automobile accident in November 1964.

A spokesman for Atkins Funeral Home at Malvern said Mrs. Matthews would be buried here.

She was injured in the accident, which took place at Texarkana. Her husband, William J. Matthews and three children of the couple were killed in the accident.

Pilkinton Cites Money WR Spending

HOPE, Ark. (AP) — James H. Pilkinton of Hope said Tuesday that the amount of money Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller is spending on his re-election campaign could forfeit Rockefeller's right to a second term.

Pilkinton, the unsuccessful Democrat candidate for lieutenant governor in 1966, said Arkansas law places definite limits on the amount a candidate can legally spend.

"In the opinion of many legal authorities, if it is violated and the point is raised in the proper manner, the offending candidate cannot only be punished but barred from serving even if elected," Pilkinton said.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Rodney Parham said Arkansas statute 3-1401 prevents candidates for any state office from spending more than one year's income of the office the candidate is seeking.

Since the governor's salary is $10,000, this means gubernatorial candidates are limited to $10,000 spending of their own money.

Wreck at Lewisville Kills Man

LEWISVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Cottrell Rowe, about 51, of Magnolia was killed Tuesday night when his car plunged through a barricade and flipped into a creek, two miles east of Lewisville on U.S. 82.

Officers said he was alone.

North Vietnam Answer Could Come Today on Offer to Halt Bombs

PARIS (AP) — American and North Vietnamese negotiators met again today amid speculation Hanoi might reply to the U.S. proposals to halt the bombing of North Vietnam. But there was no advance public indication that the North Vietnamese had reached a decision.

U.S. Ambassador Averell Harriman and Xuan Thuy of North Vietnam met for the 27th session of the five-month-old talks.

Harriman told newsmen as he went into the meeting that he had no indication that anything but the usual arguments "is going to come out of the session, although I am always hopeful."

Even if Thuy gave Harriman his government's acceptance or rejection of the American proposals, it was doubtful that the reply would be announced in Paris. It seemed more likely that it would be rushed to Washington, and that any announcement would come from President Johnson.

Johnson reportedly offered to stop all bombing of North Vietnam if Hanoi limited its participation in the war and let the Paris peace talks move promptly into a new stage of discussions. The President has called for the Saigon government to participate in the second phase of the talks and is reported ready to let the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front take part on the Communist side of the table.

U.S. officials believe North Vietnam's leaders are now debating Johnson's proposal at conferences in Hanoi for which Le Duc Tho, special counselor to Xuan Thuy, returned from Paris last week.

A Western ambassador in Moscow with access to high Soviet officials reported to Paris that Tho on his way home told Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin he had good hopes of an agreement with the Americans.

A blast Tuesday from the Viet Cong appeared to reject Johnson's proposals for Communist de-escalation in exchange for an end to the bombing.

The Viet Cong statement also repeated the long-standing demand that Washington recognize the National Liberation Front as the only legal representative of the South Vietnamese people.

Housing Loan for McRae

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., announced Tuesday that the Department of Housing and Urban Development has approved a $15,900 loan increase to McRae White County to help in construction of 16 low-rent housing units.

Enemy Force Hard Hit by Marines

By GEORGE ESPEY
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marine scouts sighted more than 400 North Vietnamese troops moving through jungled foothills southwest of Da Nang and called in artillery and air strikes that wiped out nearly half of the enemy force, military spokesman reported today.

The U.S. Marines spot two units on the move near Da Nang, and 121 enemy soldiers are killed.

APOLLO 7
Cleaned up, rested and well-fed, the Apollo 7 astronauts come ashore today to tell the experts at Cape Kennedy about the flight that prepared the way for a trip to the moon.

Western Europe hails the Apollo triumph. Some see the flight as a step toward colonization in space.

CAMPAIGN '68
Hubert H. Humphrey's visit to Texas brings warring Democratic leaders together. His diplomatic skills will be tested again when he gets to California.

Richard M. Nixon says the Democratic administration "cannot restore peace" in Vietnam.

George C. Wallace, hit by an apple core in Wisconsin, makes a labor policy speech in Ohio.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, accused by the Post Office Department of misusing his free mailing privileges, says President Johnson has launched a vendetta against him because he helped block the Abe Fortas nomination.

The plan for high-speed passenger train service in the Washington-New York-Boston corridor is chugging along a year behind schedule.

NATIONAL
New York City's public school system is paralyzed by the teachers' strike, police continue their work slowdown, firemen are expected to join them—but most visitors see little evidence of the city's troubles.

University of California police seize students conducting a sit-in in Sproul Hall on the Berkeley campus.

Post Office Sets Aside Space Plan
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department has set aside plans to provide space-available air transportation for second class mail, Postmaster Gen. W. Marvin Watson announced Tuesday.

Watson said a survey of publishers revealed little demand for the new service under existing charges but he hopes lower rates could be set in the future.

United Fund One Third of Its Goal
A report meeting was held of the Division Chairmen of the Hempstead County United Fund. Dr. Lester Stizes, drive chairman, called the meeting to see if any of the chairmen had any special problems on which they needed help.

To date, $7,516.10 in cash and pledges has been reported to the Chamber of Commerce, but it is known that much more is in the hands of the workers. This represents one-third of the goal of $24,500.

Co-Chairmen Harry Hawthorne and Jimmy Griffin reported that they had very good response on their new division this year. They have contacted retail merchants in several of the towns in the county and have had only one call from which they did not receive a pledge, but they expect to obtain it later. Jimmy Griffin pointed out that this proves that all a person has to do is contact prospective donors.

Mrs. Bill Watson said that the workers in the Hope Junior Auxiliary are very pleased with the response they have received in the Residential Division. They are to have a meeting Wednesday and all pledges are to be turned in then. Mrs. Watson said that it appears that they will top all previous amounts collected by them.

Several businesses and groups of employees have donated 100 per cent and a list will be released soon.

Seek Inmate Who Escaped
TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — Police were searching today for an inmate who escaped from here Tuesday.

Officials said Eddie Lee Coughlin, 28, serving 15 years from Craighead County for burglary and grand larceny, was the inmate who escaped.

Mothers of Nike Club members are given a special invitation to attend the B & P Club coffee at the Chamber of Commerce conference room Thursday, 9-11 a.m. and 2-4 p.m.

Wreck at Lewisville Kills Man

LEWISVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Cottrell Rowe, about 51, of Magnolia was killed Tuesday night when his car plunged through a barricade and flipped into a creek, two miles east of Lewisville on U.S. 82.

Officers said he was alone.

Mothers of Nike Club members are given a special invitation to attend the B & P Club coffee at the Chamber of Commerce conference room Thursday, 9-11 a.m. and 2-4 p.m.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

ACCENTUATE THE POSITIVE
Dear Helen: My wife had a childhood that should have left scars. Apparently it didn't but I wonder if she is holding back. Psychiatrists say you are what your early years mold. My wife's beginnings were miserably and they got worse — drunken parents, beatings, foster homes without love. She never talks about this, but I have heard. I don't question her — she'd answer truthfully, but she has always said it's better to forget the bad and remember the good.

She is the finest person I have ever known and I don't want her hurting over things she can't bring herself to talk about. She seems happy and secure, but is she? Does she need to discuss her childhood with an expert so that it won't come back to haunt her some day? — JERRY

Dear Jerry: For Heavens sakes, let sleeping childhoods lie! Your wife knows what is best for her. She has the strength to remember the good, forget the bad, and that's a rare thing. If we all had it, there would scarcely be a need for psychiatrists.

P.S. It isn't quite correct to say that what happens in your early years governs your life. Rather, how you REACT to those long-ago events helps make you what you are. Sometimes the worst childhood produces the strongest, kindest person, for she reacts with determination to reverse the trend; and if she remembers, it's with pity, not bitterness, for people who didn't know any better. On the other hand the "girl who had everything" can become an adult dud. She reacts with a "gimme complex." (But her sister may join the Peace Corps.) I think "the formative years" and especially parents, have been made scapegoats for altogether too many failures, and I'm 100 per cent with your wife, Jerry, who prefers looking forward to looking back! — H.

Dear Helen: May a 50-year-old express her views on the voting age?

I believe it should be lowered to 18. At that age, young people still have stars in their eyes and ideals in their hearts. They aren't involved with the almighty buck, and have not become imprudent enough to be intimidated.

I believe we should let them be actively involved while they still maintain the alertness and spirit of youth, and are inquisitive enough to know what the man on the ballot really stands for.

By the grace of God, if today's youth doesn't cower, the day will come when the individual vote will count, and the voter will have a real choice in nominating the men who go on the ballot. — MRS. M. G.

Dear Helen: I am a 20-year-old man and my lovely blonde wife is 32, and 150 pounds of real muscle. My problem: How can I stop her from once a week giving me what she calls a needed "motherly talk," which is — rolling up her sleeves, taking me across her knee and giving me a real shelling with a hairbrush. Suggestions? — BLISTERED BUB

Dear Bub: You might try making up a less obvious hoax. — H.
Dear Helen: Is it proper for two people of the same sex to show their affection for each other by a friendly kiss or hug? I am not only bothered, but — SLIGHTLY WORRIED

Dear Worried: If you're bothered and worried about those "friendly" kisses, there's a good chance they mean something more to the giver. Keep your distance, and if she won't allow it, break off with her. — H.

Purple Heart 50 Years Late

MIDLAND, Mich. (AP) — Nearly 50 years late, Andrew Vandenberg has his Purple Heart.
Vandenberg, wounded in France during World War I while serving in the 4th Field Artillery, 2nd Marine Division, said he didn't get around to applying for the medal until last May.

Retires From Firm

MRS. ALICE KATE BAKER

Mrs. Alice Kate Baker, group chief operator with Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in Hope, concluded a telephone career of nearly 33 years when she retired recently.

A native of Hope, Mrs. Baker first joined Southwestern Bell as an operator in 1936. She became a central office clerk in 1942 and was promoted to senior operator in 1943.

In 1948 she was promoted to service assistant. She was a relief evening chief operator in 1952 and became group chief operator in 1960.
Mrs. Baker is a member of the First Baptist Church in Hope and the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Corruption Still Around, Says Governor

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Tuesday that corruption in government is still a lingering tragedy in Arkansas despite efforts by his administration to end it.
The governor, speaking at a regional rally here, said, "We must create an attitude of conscience so that we will not be satisfied with excuses from entrenched politicians who say,

"what are you fussing about? It's always been done this way."
Rockefeller told a crowd of several thousand that he was seeking a second term "to solidify the foundation of what we've done."
If the foundation remains flimsy, he said, "You could knock it down should the old machine ever be cranked up. Let's don't crank up the old machine."
Reference to cranking up the old machine was a double slam at his Democratic opponent, Marion H. Crank, and at the political organization which backs Crank.
Rockefeller also said he would invoke the veto if the 1969 legislature attempted to emasculate the two-year-old Freedom of Information Act.

The governor said he was proud that the act passed during his administration and that he was pleased with Monday's Arkansas Supreme Court ruling on the act.
He called the act a "great step forward."
Rockefeller made a stronger appeal than usual for a new Constitution, saying, "Arkansas is moving into the 20th Century. We are making progress, but we could make better progress if we had a Constitution that is befitting to the 20th Century."

Although he did not directly mention a tax increase, he warned repeatedly that the demand for improved services will cost money.
"Nobody has talked to you as frankly as I," he said.
As he began to speak, a group of youngsters at the rear of the crowd, began to wave placards and call, "We want Win," "Me, too," Rockefeller responded.
Introduced Probation
A Boston bootmaker, John Augustus, introduced the practice of probation in the United States in 1841 through his voluntary efforts in helping released offenders rehabilitate themselves.

ALL NUMBER CALLING is coming to Hope and Bodcaw

ALL Number Calling (ANC) simply means that telephone numbers consist of seven numerals instead of two letters and five numerals. About three-fourths of the nation's telephones now have this numbering system.

Effective with the delivery of your new telephone directory in the next few days, Hope and Bodcaw will have this new system of telephone numbers.

The change to ANC isn't really much of a change. For example, if your old number was "PR 7-4601," your new one is "777-4601." Technically, it isn't a new number. It's your same old number expressed a different way. And you'll dial it exactly as you always have. So, for practical purposes, there's no change at all.

Why the change? The reason we're eliminating central office names is simple. On a nationwide basis, we're running out of suitable, easy-to-pronounce-and-understand names. All Number Calling gives us about 50 per cent more usable telephone numbers. We need these new numbers to keep up with the demand for new service.

There are several things you'll like about All Number Calling. Confusion between letters and figures (such as I and one, 0 and zero) and between central office names (such as HUBBARD and HOBART) will be eliminated. This means fewer pesky "wrong numbers" — something we can all do without.

Also, your dialing will be faster and easier, with only numbers to look for on the dial.

Country vs Town in S. Dakota Race

By GARY HANSEN
Associated Press Writer
PIERRE, S.D. (AP) — South Dakota is largely a rural state, but its Senate race this year still appears to be shaping up along town vs. country lines. The race is between Sen. George S. McGovern, who was a Democratic challenger for the presidential nomination, and former Gov. Archie Gubbrud, Republican. Although McGovern's bid for the presidency stole the show for some time in South Dakota, Gubbrud is well known in this traditionally Republican state. Besides being an ex-governor, he is a former legislator and speaker of the state house. Gubbrud farms his own farm near Alcester, in southeastern South Dakota. The latest South Dakota poll, conducted by three daily newspapers, shows McGovern leading 51 to 42 per cent, with 7 per cent undecided. The poll is broken down between rural and urban areas, in farming and ranching areas

McGovern, who is seeking his second term, leads the former governor 56 to 36 per cent and in the small communities 53 to 40 per cent. However, in the large communities Gubbrud led, 47 to 45 per cent. Gubbrud has not committed himself on the Vietnam war. However, he has said vigorous support of "our fighting men" is as necessary as vigorous support for peace in Vietnam. McGovern has mellowed on his total, all-out position against the war in Vietnam. His approach has changed from "immediate withdrawal" to a "systematic reduction" of American troops in Vietnam. Last week he renewed his call for a higher pay system that

Catcalls and Chants Greet Gov. Wallace

By REX THOMAS
Associated Press Writer
YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — George C. Wallace, hit on the shoulder by an apple core, spent the day in Wisconsin Tuesday trying to speak above chants and catcalls. Eggs and tomatoes thrown at him missed. At Racine, Wis., his car was surrounded by shouting youths. Secret Service agents and Alabama state troopers accompanying the third-party presidential candidate had to force their way through the crowd to get Wallace out of the car. Wallace sought votes from labor union members in Ohio today where he came to deliver a major labor speech at Youngstown. Moments before his car was surrounded, Wallace who received 34 per cent of the votes in the 1964 Democratic presidential primary in Wisconsin, had spoken at a crowded auditorium in downtown Racine. He encountered sporadic outbursts of heckling there, but none of the sustained shouting and booing which almost kept him from being heard during his appearance at Oshkosh. Wallace left the Racine Auditorium to drive one block to a hotel to address a $25-a-plate fund-raising dinner. When his car reached the entrance, it was surrounded by shouting youths who maned to push the automobile into another ahead of it. Racine police took two youths into custody and finally cleared the street. The crowd was still outside an hour later when Wallace left the hotel under heavy escort and drove back to Milwaukee to spend the night. At Oshkosh shortly after noon, several hundred hecklers were on hand as he spoke in a downtown square. Eggs, tomatoes and apple cores were thrown at him. One apple core struck Wallace in the shoulder. He told the crowd: "It's all right. It'll wash off."

Then, pointing to the protesting students, he added: "That's bunch of anarchists." At Oshkosh and again at Racine, he spotted young men with long hair and quipped: "Hi, sweetie. Oh, pardon me, I thought you were a she, but you're a he. It's hard for me to tell the boys from the girls around here." His supporters in the audience cheered him on. would permit the United States to do away with compulsory military service.

Lie Tests Proposed in G&F Hassle

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Odell Pollard, chairman of the state Republican party, Tuesday night called for a lie detector test for himself, state Game and Fish Commission Director Hugh Hackler and Commissioner Raymond Farris of Biscoe. Pollard invited Farris and Hackler to meet him at Hackler's office at 1 p.m. today to go to State Police headquarters for the test. Pollard's request came after the Arkansas Legislative Council asked for an investigation into telephone conversations between Hackler and Farris and an anonymous caller they claim purported to represent Pollard. The council adopted a motion to ask the prosecutors in Pulaski and Prairie counties to investigate the matter. Hackler told the council that on June 20, 1967, he received an anonymous telephone call in which a man said he was mailing a contract to Hackler, which if signed and agreed to by the commission, the Republicans "will stop this whole mess of investigation of the commissioners."

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller had announced earlier that he would attempt to oust some members of the commission for misconduct in office. Hackler said the man refused to identify himself but said he had just talked with Farris and "informed him how to get in touch with me through Mr. Odell Pollard."

Hackler quoted the man as saying the commission would receive a contract in the mail for the reodification of commission laws but that the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission should be inserted in place of the Soil and Water Conservation Commission in the contract. He also said a $6,000 fee on the Soil and Water contract should be changed to $12,000. Earlier Tuesday, Pollard told the council that he had never attempted to persuade anyone connected with the commission to enter into a contract with his law firm and that anyone who claimed otherwise "is not only a liar but is a damn liar."

Pollard did have a $6,000 contract with the Soil and Water Commission. He said he had been invited to submit a bid on study work for the commission and said he "apparently was the low bidder." Hackler told the council that the following Monday he received a contract in the mail. He said it was mailed from Newport in a Win Rockefeller for Governor envelope. Hackler said he learned at a commission meeting that Farris, who is one of the commission members the governor sought to oust, had a similar conversation, and that Farris had his wife to take notes on it.

In a copy of notes that was reported to be Farris' conversation with the anonymous caller, included the question, "Do you want the W.R. group to call off the dogs and leave the Game and Fish alone?" "Are you aware that the Soil Conservation Service cured its troubles by hiring Odell Pollard at $1,200 per month?" the notes, Farris said his wife had taken, said.
